

DLC Coatings – AFM Topography Characterization

Two types of DLC (Diamond Like Carbon) coating surfaces are characterized using the AFM (Atomic Force Microscopy). The surface topography, roughness and grain size information is most valuable when further examining wear and friction characteristics of coatings.

DLC Type Coating 1

DLC Type Coating 2

